22.05 The Employer will make every reasonable effort:

- (a) not to schedule the commencement of a shift within sixteen (16) hours of the completion of the employee's previous shift, and
- (b) to avoid excessive fluctuation in hours of work.

- (b) Where a classification level is assigned a higher pay range as a result of regrading; that is, where there have been no substantial changes in the duties and responsibilities of the positions classified at that classification level, the incumbents of the positions classified at that level will be paid at the same step in the new pay range as they were in the old pay range.

This allowance will permit the average employee residing in a settlement to maintain equal purchasing power with his counterpart in Yellowknife. This allowance is not an incentive to reside in the settlement, but is basically an equalizing type of subsidy.

- 41.03 Settlement Allowance may be paid under certain conditions to employees assigned to a location for a short period of special assignment, regardless of the location of the position occupied, unless the location of the position occupied has a higher rate of Settlement Allowance, in which case the higher rate shall be paid. No allowance will be paid when the allowance will be less than the employee's entitlement under travel or removal status.
- 41.04 Casual, part-time, and seasonal employees will be paid the Settlement Allowance approved for the community in which they are employed, prorated to an hourly rate, up to a maximum of the normal weekly hours of work for their classification group.
- 41.05 An employee who works a compressed work year or a regular work year of less than twelve (12) months, but is paid over a twelve (12) month period, shall be paid a Settlement Allowance for the entire year.
- 41.06 The annual rate of Settlement Allowance for the various communities is set out in Clause 41.08. Where it is necessary to apply a monthly, weekly, or hourly rate, the appropriate annual rate will be divided by 12, 52, or 1950, respectively.

- (2) Those employees who live in communities whose rate of Settlement Allowance on this schedule is lower than they were receiving immediately prior to April 1, 1979 will continue to be paid the rate they were receiving immediately prior to April 1, 1979, until either:
- (a) the rate for the community in which he lives exceeds the rate he was receiving prior to April 1, 1979; or
 - (b) an agreed upon new Settlement Allowance schedule is implemented.

ELIGIBILITY

All employees are covered by this Article. Employees hired prior to August 5, 1976 may choose to use their entitlement under the previous policy, summarized in Clause 42.08. Employees who transferred from the Federal Government and who were entitled to full removal assistance at the time of their transfer, may retain their entitlement of removal to their normal place of residence prior to being posted north.

ENTITLEMENT

(a) Length of Service

The percentage of approved expenses paid vary with the length of continuous employment with the N.W.T. Government, as follows:

Length of Service Entitlement

3 years but less than 4	75% of approved costs
over 4 years	100% of approved costs
over 20 years	100% of approved costs to any destination in Canada.

(A year of service is the twelve (12) month period to the anniversary date of initial appointment.)

Laid-off employees shall be eligible for 100% ultimate removal regardless of length of service.

The dependants of a deceased employee shall be eligible for 100% ultimate removal regardless of length of service (including the costs of shipping the body).

(b) Weight limits

The schedule below defines the maximum weights of effects that the Government will pay for. Coverage also includes crating charges and the limits include weights of the crates. This table applies to all employees:

- accommodation and meal costs (at rates specified in the Duty Travel Article) only at points between community of residence and point of departure and only when stopovers are a result of airline schedules.
- for travel by means other than air, the equivalent of economy airfare; no additional travel expenses for stopovers will be paid.

(d) "Eligible Destination"

The total assistance will be calculated for the point of recruitment and for the actual new domicile. The Government will pay for the lesser of the two (2) totals. The "eligible destination" referred to in Clause 42.03(c) is the location to which the Government will pay costs. Employees residing in communities outside of Churchill, Iqaluit, or outside of the Mackenzie Highway System, shall receive assistance from their community of residence to the nearest of these communities and then claim removal assistance under Clause 42.03(a) or 42.08.

Employees hired after August 5, 1976 whose community of residence remains the same as his point of recruitment will not receive removal assistance. However, in recognition of length of service, effective the date of the signing of this Agreement, employees whose community of residence remains the same as his point of recruitment will be entitled to removal assistance as follows:

- (i) after ten (10) years of service 100% (one hundred percent) of approved costs to the point of departure or to any destination in the Northwest Territories whichever is the lesser cost;

- Payment will not be made for meals, lodging, or any other expenses except as allowed in Clause 42.03(c).
- In the case of an employee who has received annual leave travel assistance in the same half of the fiscal year in which the ultimate removal is claimed, the approved total of removal assistance will be reduced by the amount of the received annual leave travel assistance.
- The Territorial Government will not pay removal assistance to an employee who receives duplicate assistance from another employment source.
- An employee must move from his community of residence in order to receive removal assistance. The move must take place within thirty (30) days, except in extenuating circumstances approved by the Director of Personnel.

After the employee reaches the final destination, the claim portion of the travel authorization and expense claim form (NWT 1890-02/0780) accompanied by one gas or other substantiating receipt indicating arrival at destination, should be sent to:

Staff Accommodations and Removals,
Department of Personnel,

To be eligible for this assistance, employees who terminate their employment with the N.W.T. Public Service must certify their intention to either:

ARTICLE 47

EDUCATIONAL LEAVE

PURPOSE

The Government of the Northwest Territories recognizes the need to develop a Public Service capable of effectively and efficiently administering Government policy and programs. The skills and knowledge required to deliver programs can be recruited or developed from within the organization. Education Leave provides a means to meet organizational requirements through manpower planning programs as established for the Public Service or individual departments.

47.02

DEFINITION OF EDUCATION LEAVE

For the purposes of this Article, Education Leave is defined as leave granted, with Government assistance, to undertake full-time post-secondary studies for a period of not less than one academic year at a recognized university, community college, or technical institute.

"Academic Year" equals two (2) full program semesters, completed in succession, or completed within a twelve (12) month period.

NOTE:

This Article does not apply to Leave Without Pay. which may be granted to employees for education or other purposes.

47.03 ELIGIBILITY

All applicants for Education Leave must satisfy the following requirements:

- (a) An employee must have three (3) years of continuous service with the Government of the Northwest Territories prior to the commencement of any Education Leave. This requirement may be waived in unusual circumstances.
- (b) No employee may be granted Education Leave unless there is departmental evidence of satisfactory performance and potentials supported by a current performance appraisal.

47.04 LEVELS OF ASSISTANCE FOR EDUCATION LEAVE

All Education Leave includes assistance for tuition, travel costs, and one full removal in and out for the purposes of Education Leave. Allowances in lieu of salary may also be paid to employees on Education Leave. The level of assistance paid will be determined by the following criteria:

- (a) Education Leave Without Allowance in Lieu of Salary
Basic assistance, as outlined above, will be paid to employees who request Education Leave to further their post-secondary education with the objective of obtaining qualifications that are generally relevant to present or future requirements of the Territorial Public Service.
- (b) Education Leave with Partial Allowance in Lieu of Salary

A minimum allowance equivalent to 50% (fifty percent) of present salary will be paid to a candidate, when, in order to make the most economical use of existing manpower and to capitalize on accumulated experience, knowledge and capability, a department head selects the employee to meet an identified need rather than recruit outside the Territorial Public Service.

Recognizing that 50% (fifty percent) of salary may prove a financial burden to employees who will be continuing their studies beyond a one year program, a 10% (ten percent) increase will be added to the allowance in lieu of salary in each consecutive year of study, up to a maximum of 80% (eighty percent).

(c) Education Leave With Full Allowance in Lieu of Salary

An allowance equivalent to 100% (one hundred percent) of present salary will be paid to employees on Education Leave, when:

- (i) An employee whose skills become technically obsolete requires retraining to satisfactorily carry out his/her work.
- (ii) An employee agrees to undertake a full course of studies at the request of his/her department head when qualified persons cannot be recruited to carry out essential work.

47.05

REGULATIONS TO APPENDIX C-4

INSTRUCTORS' PAY GRID

APPOINTMENT

New employees will be assigned to their educational column at experience level zero with the following exceptions:

1. For each full academic year of post secondary teaching experience they will be given one additional level on the experience axis;
2. For each full two (2) year period of elementary or secondary school teaching directly related to the subject which they instruct, they will be given one additional level on the experience axis;
3. For each full two (2) year period of work experience directly related to the subject which they instruct, they will be given one additional level on the experience axis.

NOTE:

The foregoing criteria apply without limit except for new instructors who do not have the approved coursework in adult education or its equivalent. The maximum experience level at which such instructors may be appointed is level four (4). New instructors who satisfactorily complete the required coursework in their first year shall have their full experience applied retroactive to their date of hire.

PROGRESSION

Experience:

1. Newly Hired Instructors

On completion of each full year with satisfactory performance newly hired instructors with approved coursework in adult education are moved to the next higher level in the adult column under their educational level, provided they are not already at their maximum experience level.

2. Instructors

On completion of each full year with satisfactory performance, instructors hired on or before December 6, 1984 are moved to the next higher level in the experience column under their educational level, provided they are not already at their maximum experience level.

Education:

Upon completion of the educational requirements at an educational level beyond which an employee is now being paid, the employee is moved to that newly acquired educational level at the same experience step provided that:

- (i) the education is directly relevant to the instructional discipline;
- (ii) the new educational level has been approved by an Educational Review Committee.

EDUCATIONAL REVIEW COMMITTEE

Process:

An Educational Review Committee shall review the educational levels of instructors against the requirements specified for their positions to place them on the Instructors' Pay Grid when:

- (i) instructors are moved to the Grid upon implementation;
- (ii) new employees are hired as instructors;

- (iii) instructors inform management in writing that they have obtained an educational level above the one at which they are being paid.

The Committee shall consider the nature of the instructional program being carried out and evidence of the educational qualifications of the instructor. The Committee shall decide on the relevancy of the instructor's educational qualifications to the instructional program being carried out and subsequently the placement of the instructor in the most appropriate Educational Level column on the pay grid. The effective date for instructors who have been assigned an educational level above the one at which they are being paid shall be the date on which they informed management in writing.

Composition of Committee:

The Educational Review Committee shall be normally constituted as follows:

- (i) Regional instructor positions will be reviewed by a committee composed of the Regional Superintendent of Education and the Regional Personnel Manager or their delegates;
- (ii) Instructor positions at Arctic College will be reviewed by a committee composed of the College Director and the Regional Manager of Personnel or their delegates;
- (iii) Instructor positions in Yellowknife will be reviewed by a committee composed of the appropriate Deputy Minister and the Director of Personnel or their delegates.

INSTRUCTORS' TRAINING

Instructors hired after December 6, 1984 will have completed, or will be required to complete, six (6) weeks of full time coursework in adult education. This coursework includes as a minimum, modules in needs analysis, planning instruction, delivery techniques and evaluating learning performance. Equivalent training or a demonstrated capability in training can be accepted in lieu of the formal coursework. The Review Committee will assess the qualifications of newly hired instructors in this area and specify if any further training must be undertaken.

Newly hired instructors who require instructors' training which requires more time than the professional development time available to them in their first year, will be eligible for their first salary progression on the experience axis provided they have satisfactorily completed the first portion of instructors' training and they have performed satisfactorily.

No further progression on the experience axis will be permitted until the remaining portion of instructors' training has been satisfactorily completed.

NOTIFICATION

New employees shall be informed in their job offer of their placement on the Grid and whether they require any further training in adult education. For newly hired instructors, the Selection Board may act as the Educational Review Committee.

COORDINATORS

Instructors who are required to coordinate the work of other full time instructors in addition to performing instructional duties in their area of specialty will be paid a coordinator's allowance of $2,100 per year. Payment of the coordinator's allowance to an individual instructor will end if that instructor ceases to act as a coordinator.

PRESIDENT

Exclusion from the Bargaining Unit
U.N.W.

A. INTRODUCTION

The criteria for determining bargaining unit membership is established by negotiation with the Northwest Territories Public Service Union. It is contained as Clause 2.01(n) of the Collective Agreement.

The Government of the Northwest Territories has the right to exclude any position which adequately conforms to the criteria. Conversely the Union has the right to oppose a government decision if it is their opinion that the criteria has not been interpreted or applied correctly. When the Union does not agree with a Government decision, the matter is presented to arbitration.

B. RESPONSIBILITY

The Deputy Minister of Personnel is responsible for application and interpretation of the Collective Agreement. The criteria for position exclusion is a provision of the Agreement. The criteria for position Minister of Personnel must determine the bargaining unit status of positions, advise the Union and when necessary prepare submissions for arbitration. The centralization of this responsibility in the Department of Personnel ensures uniform application of the criteria throughout the Public Service. The determination of position status is made on the basis of position duties and responsibilities which are established by departmental requirements. When a new position is established or where an existing position is adjusted, it is evaluated in accordance with the exclusion criteria. By virtue of departmental establishment of position duties and responsibilities, departments initiate the process and are responsible for submitting recommendations for position exclusion when new positions are established or existing positions adjusted. Departmental recommendations must be supported by specific reference to the applicable criteria and include an organization chart. In this process the initiating department and the Department of Personnel must collaborate to present an accurate justification for exclusion. The onus of proof rests with the Government, only those positions that meet the established criteria or where a vital matter of principle is involved will be determined to be excluded.

As the functions of positions change, so may the status of any position and therefore the process for excluding positions is an ongoing process requiring continual updating and revision. Whenever an organizational change takes place, the status of all positions must be reviewed. Therefore, the assumption that an excluded position will always remain excluded is in error. A minor change in reporting relationship may result in a change of a status from exclusion to bargaining unit membership.

Our experience establishes that the Union often feels that the Government's application of the criteria is not justified. For this reason, departmental recommendations must be absolutely accurate in detail. The detail required is approved job description, organization chart indicating reporting relationship of position, and identification of the specific criteria for excluding the position including comments of justification.

C. EXCLUSION CRITERIA

Legislatures in the Federal and Provincial jurisdictions have given the power for the determination of the appropriate bargaining unit to Labour Relations Boards. The criteria for being a member of a bargaining unit is that the person "fits" within the definition of "employee". The definitions of employee are similar throughout Canada to the one in the Canada Labour Code:

" "Employee" means any person employed by an employer and includes a dependent contractor and a private constable, but does not include a person who performs management functions or is employed in a confidential capacity in matters relating to industrial relations".

The key to the definition, so far as the managerial and confidential exclusion is concerned, is the wide discretion that is conferred upon Labour Relations Boards. The words, "a person who performs management functions or is employed in a confidential capacity in matters relating to industrial relations" enables Boards to make different determinations on a small change in the facts.

As legislation is silent on the definition of managerial, Labour Relations Boards have been left to their own devices to create a definition. Due to the varying structures of management, Labour Relations Boards are faced with a difficult task in determining who should be excluded on the basis of managerial responsibility. The task is not an easy one as most practitioners in the field tend to view the composition of management differently. While the classification used by employers is of some value in indicating the status of personnel involved, Labour Relations Boards are reluctant to leave them the unilateral definition of management.

Accordingly, titles and hierarchical positions cannot be entirely relied upon and the Boards are inclined to enquire into the specific nature of functions performed by the person occupying the position in question.

Labour Relations Boards seem to base their determinations on a number of general managerial criteria. The duties upon which Boards place the most weight are hiring, firing, disciplining or promoting. Other considerations are: planning and decision-making in the areas of job priorities; assignment of work; independent buying and the primary Classical management's function of planning, organizing, staffing, coordinating, directing and controlling. Labour Relations Board decisions are often based on whether the person concerned has the power to make binding policy decisions involving the exercise of independent judgement and discretion or whether, on the other hand, the person merely implements decisions of others, his discretion being confined to routine limited pre-determined areas. The Boards must decide in each case if the person involved has real discretion or, in other words, is "effectively recommending" the action.

Most legislatures define their confidential exclusions in terms of "employed in a confidential capacity in matters relating to labour relations". This requires a judgement as to the seriousness of the need for secrecy for the information to which an employee is privy and his duties in acting upon the information and that the matters to be kept confidential are related strictly to labour relations.

Labour Relations Boards, in the exercise of the power granted by legislation, act with great prudence as a decision to exclude a person from a bargaining unit deprives the individual of the right of collective bargaining.

All of the Labour Relations Boards hope that there is agreement between parties for the exclusion of positions. Consequently, the Government of the Northwest Territories and the Union of Northern Workers have negotiated the criteria for excluding positions which is included in the Collective Agreement.

Following is the criteria so negotiated:

C O N F I D E N T I A L
Exclusions from the Bargaining Unit

1. GENERAL APPLICATION

Managerial Exclusions

In broad terms, the main criterion which is fundamental to the exclusion of "managerial" personnel is that such individuals in the normal course of their duties are called upon to develop proposals for Executive Committee consideration, to make recommendations which will affect the execution of programs, and/or to make decisions, the basis for which are not clearly codified in regulations or procedural documents. It is the position of the employer that these individuals should be excluded from bargaining unit membership as they may be hampered in the effective discharge of those responsibilities by being in a bargaining unit.

Confidential Exclusions

On the other hand, "confidential" personnel, as described under section 2.01(n)(x) of the Collective Agreement, are confidential to the exclusions described above. In order for an employee to be considered "confidential" to a "managerially" excluded individual, the employee must participate in the duties and/or activities which precipitated the "managerial" exclusion. The handling of, or access to, confidential documents is not grounds for an exclusion under this heading while the development of such a document might be.

2. Specific Application

The specific application of the paragraphs of section 2.01, sub-section (n) of the Collective Agreement applying this broad definition of managerial and confidential exclusions follows.

a) Section 2.01(n)(v)

* This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person who "is employed in a position confidential to the Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner, the Executive Committee or a Minister, Deputy Minister, or the Chief Executive Officer of any Government department or agency".

This sub-paragraph should be interpreted as referring only to executive assistants, private secretaries or stenographers, confidential messengers or clerks and others who are employed in the offices identified in this sub-paragraph and who, as part of their regular duties, function under the direct supervision and control of the above mentioned officers.

* As amended in 81-82 Agreement.

b) Section 2.01(n)(vi)

This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person who "is employed as a legal officer".

This sub-paragraph is intended to include all employees in the legal sub-group of the Planning and Evaluation Group contained in the Administrative Services Category of the Government of the Northwest Territories classification system as defined in the Classification Standards Manual.

c) Section 2.01(n)(vii)

This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person "who has executive duties and responsibilities in relation to the development and administration of government programs".

The term "executive" as used to modify duties and responsibilities is defined as "to manage a program with complete authority to utilize men, money and materials in the execution of a program". The majority of individuals who are excluded under this paragraph are classified as division chiefs. A lesser number are designated as section heads. It is unlikely that a case could be made to exclude an individual who reports at a lower than division chief level.

d) Section 2.01(n)(viii)

This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person "whose duties include those of a personnel administrator or who has duties that cause him to be directly involved in the process of collective bargaining on behalf of the employer".

The term "personnel administrator" should be interpreted to include all persons in positions classified in the Personnel Administration Group and all persons in positions classified in other occupational groups whose regular duties include those of a Professional Personnel Practitioner. An example of this might be an individual who is responsible for personnel administration in an administrative unit of a department. Due to the size of the department, the personnel duties do not constitute a full time position and therefore other duties are assigned with the result that the position is classified as an administrative officer instead of personnel administrator.

With reference to the latter part of section 2.01(n)(viii) which states "who has duties that cause him to be directly involved in the process of collective bargaining on behalf of the employer," this section only applies to individuals who are called upon by the employer to be a member of management's bargaining team.

e) Section 2.01(n)(ix)

This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person "who is required by reason of his duties and responsibilities to deal formally on behalf of the employer with a grievance presented in accordance with the grievance process provided for by this agreement".

Individuals who are or should be excluded under this paragraph are only those individuals who occupy positions designated as "first or second level of management". In the majority of cases the "first" level will be no lower in the organization than division chief or regional superintendent with the "second" level being department head or regional director and the "final" level being, of course, the Commissioner.

Persons who act merely as "transmittal agents" in the grievance procedure cannot be designated under this paragraph.

The handling of grievances can only be delegated in conjunction with an acting appointment.

f) Section-2.01(n)(x)

This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person "who is employed in a position confidential to any person described in sub-paragraph (vi),(vii),(viii), and (ix)".

In order to exclude a person under this paragraph the employer must establish the following two facts:

1. That the supervisor is performing duties that are described in sub-paragraph (vi),(vi),(vii),(viii), or (ix), and;
2. That there is in fact a confidential relationship between the supervisor and the position of the individual being excluded under this paragraph, and that the confidential relationship is directly related to the exercise of the duties and the discharge of responsibilities that warranted the exclusion of the supervisor.

This paragraph can be applied in circumstances where:

- a) The duties of a position occupied by a person described in sub-paragraph (vi),(vii),(viii), or (ix) are so onerous that he is compelled to delegate to another a significant portion of his duties of a type that constitutes the basis for his having been designated. An example of this would be where a division chief directs a section head to deal directly on his behalf with the director in the continuing development/management of a program. The handling of grievances, however, is not considered delegatable.

- b) Where the services rendered by the person alleged to be confidential are of such a nature that the person designated under sub-paragraphs (vi),(vii),(viii), or (ix), would normally have to rely to a substantial extent on the "confidential" person to perform these, having regard to modern technology and office organization.

It follows that persons who merely have access to confidential material cannot automatically be excluded under this paragraph as the criteria for exclusion under this paragraph have not been met.

g) Section 2.01(n)(xi)

This paragraph provides for the exclusion of any person "who is not otherwise described in sub-paragraph (vi),(vii),(ix) or (x) but who, in the opinion of an arbitrator, should not be included in the bargaining unit by reason of his duties and responsibilities to the employer".

In order for a person to be excluded under this paragraph the following must be established:

- a) That because of his particular duties and responsibilities to the employer, the individual concerned must be excluded from collective bargaining; and,
- b) that the individual who is to be excluded under this paragraph does not meet the criteria for exclusion under paragraphs (vi),(vii),(viii), and (ix) of section 2.01(n) and therefore, cannot be excluded under these paragraphs.
