Intro to Duty to Accommodate

This course is a must for Local Officers and other workplace representatives. Participants will examine what the law says about the Duty to Accommodate and how this law is applied in the workplace. These rights and our ability to enforce these rights have serious ramifications for the members, the union and the employer.

Participants will also learn to define the Duty to Accommodate and recognize when an accommodation is needed. You will also develop an understanding of the responsibilities of the parties with regard to workplace accommodation and learn where to go for assistance and resources when dealing with workplace accommodation issues.
